CLERGYMAN SCORES FASHION'S DECREES

REV. MR. STEVENS VIGOROUSLY CONDEMNS THE X-RAY AND SLASHED SKIRT.

Sunday Evening Sermon on Social Evil, Profane Street Orators and Lustful Garb of Women.

Rev. C. H. Stevens, pastor of the Congregational church, indulged in a plain talk concerning some of the evils of the present day during the union services at the Methodist church Sunday night. He paid his compliments to the modern dances, the soap-box orators and lastly to that dress abomination known as the x-ray skirt and its other immodest relations.

"Two weeks ago tonight," said Mr. Stevens, "I stood on the streets of San Francisco and listened to the curbstone orators talking to the curious throngs that surrounded them. One was a "doctor" who discoursed on the merits of some cure-all; another was preaching on Mohammedanism, and another, a desciple of the I. W. W., was cursing the workingman for not getting ready to fight for his cause. Still another who was addressing a crowd of about 400 men was hurling anathema at the editor of the Sentinel, the parsons and especially Cardinal Gibbons and the Catholic church. These men and institutions were held up to ridicule, though the speaker failed to substitute anything better. He said that the prisons, almshouses and asylums are full and he wanted to know what good the churches were anyway.

"He did not say anything about the saloons, nor did he call attention to the fact that men who do not paronize such places spend their money over the merchant's counter for better clothes and for more home comforts for themselves and their families. A large majority of those who are in the prisons and poorhouse are there because they spent their money in the grogshop and not because they went to Sunday school or to church.

"Students of ethnology tell us that it takes 60,000 girls each year to keep the redlight district going and this evil will never be abandoned until women show a willingness to give their unfortunate sisters a helping hand. When good society learns to ostracize the property owner and punish the procurer, and when good people brand every man who crosses the scarlet line, then the red lights will grow dim and not before.

"With such lustful costumes as the x ray skirt paraded on the streets, it is a wonder that we have as many good men as we have. If the new York girls slash their skirts to the knee the Chicago girls will take two slashes and San Francisco girls will take three. If the mothers of those thinly-clad girls could visit Pompeii they might see where all this will end.

Mr. Stevens also paid his respects to the turkey trot and the kindred dances which ar leading our young people away from more elevating amusements. "The king and queen of England have frowned upon those dances and anything that the average king would frown upon would shock a field of grain.

"Our friend of the street corner also said that for 1900 years men have permitted the priests and parsons to feed them on such stuff as the 'Garden of Eden,' 'Adam an l Eve,' 'The Flood' and the 'Fish' stories of the Old Testament, which he said were lies and he advised his hearers to read Voltaire and Tom Payne and not to believe the primitive bible doctrines.

"Followers of Voltaire and Payne have not built hospitals, asylums, schools or colleges," said Mr. Stevens, "but the men and women who have been able to grapple with the most profound subjects of the world and at the same time have childlike faith in God and the word of God, have given and maintaned those institutions that make for character.

"The influence of the church of Jesus Christ puts luster in the eye, bloom upon the cheek, elasticity in the step, money in the bank, carpets on the floor, pictures on the wall. It is time the church people of all denominations stood as a unit against the temptations that are luring the young people away from the teachings and example of their forefathers."

GRAMMAR-SCHOOL MECHANICAL WORK WILL BE EXTENDED.

The grammar school will open Monday, the 25th instant, after the usual vacation of nine weeks. In order to have graduation exercises, the school closed at a later date in June than usual and consequently opens later in August.

The entire eighth grade passed the county examinations successfully, maintaining the high standard of scholarship set by this school. This is the more gratifying as this is the only school that gave a complete course in manual training and domestic science throughout the year and proves that the academic work gains with the addition of industrial work. Then, too, the Redwood City school gives nearly double the time to industrial work that the bay cities devote to it.

Metal work will be added to the manual training course this fall and possibly cement work.

Interest in the study of geography will be stimulated throughout the grades by the use of a very fine series of cabinets of specimens of commercial products recently ordered by the trustees.

NEW LAW REGULATING MOTOR VEHICLES IS IN EFFECT.

The new state law passed by the last legislature for the regulation of automobiles and motorcycles provides that all automobiles must pay an annual license tax which varies according to the horsepower of the machine. The minimum tax is $10 per annum.

The moneys derived from the automobile tax will be turned over to the state and county road funds and will be used solely for maintenance. It is estimated that the tax will yield a revenue of $375,000 a year which will be applied to the maintenance of the State highways.

The new law also changes the speed limit from twenty to thirty miles an hour and the age limit for drivers of cars is sixteen. It provides a jail sentence for the third offense of speeding.

Automobiles are required to show both front and rear numbers instead of only the rear as heretofore. All drivers must secure licenses, and professional chauffeurs will be required to get a renewal each year. Motorcycles are required to carry tail lights as well as front ones, and must pay an annual license.

One of the best features of the new law is the provision prohibiting the use of the "cutout" within the limits of incorporated cities and towns. No body may now "open the muffler" except on country roads.

Will Go to Darkest Africa.

Roy Woodhams, the son of C. H. Woodhams, has entered the Hahnemann Medical college in San Francisco where he will take a four-year course. The young man is a graduate of Sequoia highschool and aspires to be a medical missionary in the wilds of Africa, and is preparing to minster to both the spiritual and physical needs of the natives of that great unexplored continent. The object of the young man is a worthy one and it is hoped that his ambition may be fully gratified. Mr. Woodhams has been a resident of this city for five years and is highly esteemed.

RAPHAEL VIDAL ONCE MORE IN CLUTCHES OF THE LAW

John Ockerman, the well known La Honda pioneer, came here Thursday to swear to a warrant for the arrest of Rafael Vidal for an assault committed on him late Wednesday afternoon at the Jesse Rapley place on the mountains. Ockerman says the assault was unprovoked. He directed Vidal down a narrow trail to the Livermore place. Vidal had not proceeded very far when his buggy was overturned and the horse thrown to the ground. This made Vidal violently angry and when Ockerman came to his assistance he was set upon and badly beaten. His head shows signs of a severe drubbing. Vidal was arrested and brought to the county jail yesterday. Vidal was sentenced by Judge Lampkin to serve six months in the county bastile.

OCLAHOMA WILD WEST SHOW TO BE HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Wednesday will be the Oklahoma Wild West day in Redwood City.. The event will be sinalized by what is described as the most novel and picturesque street parade ever offered as a free spectacle to the public by any manager of an out-door amusement enterprise. Hundreds of interesting characters will be in line. There will be cowboys from some of the famous western ranches, with champions of the Pendleton round-up, theCalgary stampede and other great wild west gatherings. There will be over fifty cowgirls, every one of them a daring rider of wild horses from childhood. There will be scores of Indians, in all the panoply of war bonnets, gay blankets and beaded ornamentation, accompanied by squaws and pappooses. There will be reckless riders from Cossack Land, bull-fighters, and lariat-throwers from Mexico, and more other strange and curious people than have ever before, it is declared, been seen in a single street display. With all this there will be what is said to be an unusually notable exhibition of fine horses in the gorgeous tableaux section, which serve to illustrate in a series of living pictures scenes and incidents in the stirring days of the pioneers. Ten kinds of music will enliven the line, and the oldest genuine stage coach in existence will be driven by one of the most famous of the old-time overland mail drivers.

An Important Meeting.

It is expected that on the 19th instant there will will be a notable gathering at San Mateo city hall of citizens from throughout the county for the purpose of discussing the advsiability of the county's participation in the Portola parade.

The Board of Governors have given the subject much consideration and from the investigations which they have made believe there is a general sentiment throughout the county that it should be represented at that festival. The majority of the bay committees have seized upon the festival as an excellent occasion for properly adversising of their respective districts and will be represented in the parade by a division or floats.

Court Menlo Park, No. 8020 A. O. F. will give a dance in Duff & Doyle hall on on August 23d. The members are trying to start a circle of the Companions of the Forest in Menlo. They are hoping to get the Supreme Grand Companion of the Forest to come and speak a few words about the aims and benefits of a circle. There is no doubt a circle would help the social life of Menlo considerably. It is hoped the ladies of the district will rally to the help of the Foresters, so that a strong circle may be established.

An early rainy season is expected by all the old settlers hereabouts. In early days it was a sure sign among the farmers that when wild ducks came from the north to the local marshes in August, rainy seasons would begin in October, and prepared for it accordingly. In the last week large flocks of duck have come from the north and almost every evening at twilight the birds may be seen in their flight from the marsh to the Spring Valley lakes and the Bear Gulch lake.

It is reported that the artesian wells bored by the Spring Valley Water Company several years ago along the bay shore at Ravenswood are uncapped and that the large volume of water from them flows into the bay and is wasted. At the time the wells were sunk the company intended to pipe the water to the mains nearby and convey it to Belmont to be pumped to San Francisco, but abandoned the project after the wells were bored. The flow from these wells at this time is a detriment to other wells in this vicinity. The company is perhaps not aware of the existing state of affairs and it should be notified at once to cap the pipes and thus increase the water supply of farmers, orchardists and others in the valley.

Faxon Atherton recently qualified in the preliminary examination for the prix de Rome of the American Academy in Paris. This is a great artistic distinction, and indicates that the young man has a splendid architectural career ahead of him. Faxon Atherton Jr. is the son of Faxon Atherton and of the late beautiful and accomplished Jane Selby Atherton. He has been a pupil at the Beaux Arts during the past three years. There is a rule that no foreigner may compete for the prix de Rome of the Beaux Arts. On this account St. Gaudens, Olmstead, Burnham, McKim and other distinguished Americans founded the American Academy which also has a prix de Rome. There were eleven hundred contestants for the honor, but in the competition these narrowed down to ten, and of the ten in the preliminary examination Faxon Atherton Jr. was the winner. The prix consists of a four years' course at Rome with all expenses paid.

MENLO PARK SOON TO HAVE A DAILY PAPER

On the authority of those who are projecting the enterprise, we are able to state positively that by the first of the month Menlo Park will have a newspaper of its own.

With several ably edited papers—weekly and daily—already in the field, it would seem, at first blush, there is hardly room for further venture. After a talk, however, with the projectors of the scheme, we are convinced the new paper will have a field all its own. In the parlance of journalism, the proposed daily is to be "a newspaper with a purpose." That purpose will shape its editorial policy and be largely reflected in its news columns. While several of its backers are well known residents of Atherton, the new daily will concern itself chiefly with Menlo Park and its interests. It will be launched as an evening paper and will be a full four page affair. The personnel of its management and editorial staff is a guarantee, as far as such enterprises can be guaranteed, of its immediate success. In our issue of next week we hope to be able to give full information concerning the new venture.

We congratulate Menlo Park and are convinced its people will await the first issue of the new paper—Monday, Sept. 1st—with eagerness and deep interest. Meanwhile, the Times-Gazette is prepared to extend an enthusiastic and brotherly welcome to its new contemporary.

Great Doings at Menlo

Thursday will be the day, August the 21st the date, 8:15 p. m. the time, and the Hall of the Nativity Menlo Park the place. And the girl?— well, she will be there in numbers, and each with an appetizing little luncheon in a basket in the midst of which a little slip bearing the name of the donor will be hidden away.

Redwood City has three (more or less) more electric lights on its streets than Menlo and therefore boasts of its brilliant superiority. Palo Alto has an electric sign proclaiming its identity showing across its main street and because of that looks askance at Menlo Park for its lack of progress. But, with all its quiet demureness and outward decorum, when it comes to staging a program to enjoy which is worth traveling from the other end of the county, a program that is at once absorbingly interesting and screamingly funny, Menlo Park, as if to the manner born, unquestionably and unquestioned assumes the lead.

The program arranged for the Hall of The Nativity for Thursday evening promises to surpass anything yet given, promises to be one of those programs from which all who were "amongst those present," will go away satisfied with themselves and the world generally, and because of which those unfortunate "stay at homes" will reecho the lament which has of late been frequently heard "on the morning after" a program in Nativity Hall. "Oh, I didn't know it would be so good as that, oh, I wish I had gone."

Charles Bulotti, eminent in musical circles in San Francisco, and perhaps the leading tenor of the Metropolis, will be heard in solo work, and will bring with him a dramatic quartet of the highest worth.

Mr. DanCasey of the Family and Olympic clubs, Mr. George Maeyerle, Miss "Peggy Smith" and her troupe, Miss Frances Dougherty and a group of dainty little sidhe from the land of the forefathers of many of us, are among the numbers to appear.

The fun of the evening will receive fresh impetus when a clever auctioneer will undertake to make our young men "pay the price" for the privilege of eating supper with one of the charming belles of the luncheon baskets.

The program will begin at 8:15 p. m. and about 10 o'clock the floor will be celared. Do you know the floor of the Hall of the Nativity? They do keep it in such splendid condition.

COUNTY NOT LIABLE FOR INDIVIDUAL ACT

Judge Hunt Clearly Expounds Law Governing Making of Public Contracts

Judge John Hunt, sitting for Judge Buck, has rendered a decision in the suit of the A. L. Young Machinery Company against the County of San Mateo. The opinion is an interesting one as it plainly sets forth the laws in such cases and is of importance to those having contracts with counties and municipalities. All those doing work for the county should peruse it carefully. Several of the authorities quoted by the judge are omitted for lack of space. District Attorney Franklin Swart appeared for the county and E. F. Fitzpatrick for the Machinery Company.

The following are the facts in this case:

The plaintiff herein claims to have sold and delivered to the defendant, in November, 1911, certain culvert pipe, which it is claimed was of the reasonable value of $4059.20. After delivery of the pipe, the plaintiff presented to the board of supervisors of San Mateo county a claim for $2559.85 for pipe thus furnished. It appears that said claim, upon its face, did not indicate that any other, or further, demand would be made for the cost of said material, than the sum therein specified. The board refused to allow the claim in full, but, about three months after its presentation, allowed it for the sum of $1914.85. The plaintiff refused to accept the last mentioned amount, and this action was brought o recover the sum of $4059.20, no further action in the premises having been taken by said Board. The augmented demand herein was made up of a charge of $1499.35, for additional pipe claimed to have been delivered to defendant. It seems that some four months after the rejection, or modified allowance, of plaintiff's original demand, the plaintiff filed herein other demands aggregating the said last mentioned amount, upon which latter demands no action was taken by the board of supervisors.

At, and prior to, the time said pipe was furnished, one Mr. Black burn was a member of the board of supervisors, representing the fifth supervisorial district of said county. All the negotiations and details in connection with such purchases, the amount and extent thereof, and the prices to be paid therefor, were conducted solely and entirely by said Blackburn and the plaintiff herein. The evidence showed that only a portion of the pipe had been installed.

Prior to the purchase in question, the board of supervisors adopted an order "that the supervisors of this county be instructed and empowered to purchase all the necessary culverts, for use in their respective districts." It was under this resolution that said Blackburn claimed to have made the purchase in question.

The defense interposed to the plaintiff's claim herein are several. First, it is clamed that the demand in question was one simply against the "road fund" of the Fifth supervisorial district, and that said fund, at the time of the making of said alleged contract, was practically exhausted, and hence, said claim was illegal under the provisions of the political code. Second, that the amount of said demand was in excess of the reasonable value of the pipe furnished. Third, that the resolution of the board of supervisors was void, inasmuch as it was an attempted delegation of the official power and perogative of the board to an individual member thereof; and, in connection with the latter defense, there are supplementary defense, to the effect that the county is not estopped from claiming that the demand in question was illegal, and that it had not, in any wise, ratified the action of said Blackburn. In view of the conclusion which I have reached, it will be necessary for me only to pass upon the third defense thus interposed.

It appears that, upon the adoption tof said resolution, each of the five members constituting the board of supervisors of the defendant, purchased for the use of the different districts represented by them, road material. It further appears that, on the date of the purchase in question, the supervisorial road district fund for the fifth district amounted to the sum of $87.55.

Section 4031 of the political code of this State provides that, "a majority of the members of the board of supervisors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and no act of said board shall be valid unless a majority of all the members concur therein."

It is a well settled principle of law that the authority thus conferred by statute upon board of supervisors cannot be delegated to others, save where such delegation, or power, involves the discharge of duty ministerial in character, duties not calling for the exercise of discretion or judgment.

* * * * * * *

Upon the trial of the action, in response to a question addressed to him by plaintiff's counsel, Blackburn testified that, in maknig the purchase in question, he exercised his judgment and his discretion, and that he considered himself authorized to buy "whatever pipe I needed for the township."

In Holly vs. Orange county, 106 Cal. 424, it is said: "It does not follow that the authority conferred upon the board of supervisors by statute can be delegated to others. We understand the rule to be that the power of delegation by local boards is confined to the discharge of duties ministrial in character, and not calling for the exercise of discretion or judgment." Therefore, intermining the validity of said resolution, the main and essential question is, Were the powers attempted to be conferred upon Blackburn merely ministerial in character, and not requiring the exercise upon his part of judgment or discretion?

In the Zottman case, 20 Cal. 101, the common council of the city adopted an ordinance for building a fence about the public square, * * * The work contemplated to be done called for a wooden base, but, in the execution of the work, it was concluded that a stone base would better suffice, and accordingly a contract was made by a special committee of the council for the erection of such base and for the painting of the iron fence. No resolution or order of the common council sanctioning this change, or authorizing this work, was made. Notwithstanding that it was claimed in that case that the retention and use of the work done constituted an equitable estoppel upon the city, and that such work was beneficial in character, it was held that the acts of the committee in question were ultra veres, and that no liability to pay for such extra work on the part of the municipality was created. It was there said: "Individual members of the common council were not invested with any power to improve the city property, and any direction given or contracts made by them, upon the subject had no greater validity than like directions given by any other residents of the city assuming to act for the corporation. * * If individual members could not thus make a valid contract originally, they could not, by any subsequent proceeding or conduct, impart validity to it thereafter."

* * * * * * *

In this case, if the board of supervisors had adopted a resolution authorizing the purchase of the pipe in question, and fixed the price therfor, and directed the place or district wherein it was to be installed, there could have been no ground for legal complaint. But here, the power attempted to be conferred upon Blackburn, if valid, authorized him to expend any amount of money, and to purchase any amount or kind of pipe that he deemed proper, and subject the county to the expense thereof. As previously stated, the amount then in the road district fund of $87.55, would be wholly inadequate to pay the amount of demand presented herein, and consequently, such payment if made, must come out of the general fund. But under this resolution, the defendant Blackburn, in the unlimited discretion and power conferred upon him, could have made purchases which would not only have extinguished the amount in the road district fund, but might also have impaired, or absorbed, all of the money in the general fund of the county, thus making the cost of the work done a county, rather than a district charge.

The plaintiff seeks to support his contention by reference to the Von Schmidt case, cited in 100 California, page 51, but that case, in my opinion, is without application. There it seems that an offer to sell certain realty was made to the board of supervisors; that, after the proposition had been referred to a committee, and a favorable report returned, the board adopted the resolution authorizing the purchase, and thereafter, a deed for the proprty was delivered, and the board ordered a warrant for the amount of the purchase money to be drawn. Thercafter it attempted to repeal the resolution thus adopted, and it was held that it had no power so to do, but, for other reasons, the board was sustained in its refusal to make the purchase in question. Here the only resolution adopted by the board was one which enabled each supervisor to spend any amount of the district, or general funds, that he deemed proper, in the purchase of culvert materials, for use in his supervisorial district.

In response to plaintiff's claim of ratification by the board, of Blackburn's purchase, it is sufficient to say, that where the act sought to be ratified, was, at its inception, illegal, no ratification is possible. As was said in the Zottman case, no void act is possible of ratification.

Nor can any estopple be invoked against the defendant herein. The circumstances that the work may, or may not, have been beneficial to the county, is in no wise to be considered. As was said in the Zottman case, the corporation was not bound to remove the base and paint to avoid liability and no more was it bound to remove the pipe in order to defeat the plaintiff's demand. "Where work is done upon the streets of a city without authority, liability does not follow because the streets may be improved thereby."

In Irwin vs. The County of Yuba, 119 Cal., 688, it appears that the board of supervisors had selected one of their number, as a member of their anti-debris committee to attend a convention, the design of which was to adopt measures which would protect the property of the county in question from injury, in consequence of hydraulic mining. In pursuance of that authority, one of the supervisors, a member of said committee, attending such convention, participated in its proceedings, and expended for his personal account consequent upon said attendance, the sum of $250, for which amount his claim was presented against the board of supervisors, and rejected. To a complaint seeking a recovery of the amount of plaintiff's demand, a demurrer was interposed and sustained, and the Superior Court, in affirming the order of the court below said: "It is not sufficient that the services performed for which payment is claimed were beneficial."

I am therefore of opinion that the resolution in question was void, inasmuch as it amounted to an attempted delegation of the official power possessed by the board as a to an individual member, and that the defendant is not liable upon demanded sued on. While this the demand sued on. While this conclusion may result in a great hardship to plaintiff it is nevertheless a hardship which falls to everyone contracting with a municipal corporation, who fails to inquire into the power of the corporation, or of its officers to make a contract. The authorities are abundant to the effect that all persons dealing with a county must take notice that they can contract only in the manner and form provided by law; the mode being the measure of the power.

It is therefore ordered that judgment be entered herein in favor of the defendant.
